A match game has been arranged for next Sunday between the local team and the Hopland nine, and it promises to be a hotly contested event. The Healdsburg team will play the local nine on the Fourth.

PHILO, June 17.—The weather continues fine, and much haying is going on in this locality.

Elmer Dutro and wife are up from Dry creek on a short visit to relatives here.

An entertainment was given at the Shields schoolhouse Saturday evening. The program was excellent and Miss Holmberg deserves high praise for the perfect training of her scholars. Everyone present had a good time. Luncheon was served at a late hour and all departed with best wishes for Shields school.

Arthur and Glenn, the two sons of Conductor Johnson and wife, are visiting relatives at Philo.

Children's day at the M. E. church was a great success. Many excellent recitations were rendered by the wee folks and appropriate songs were heard from the senior class. There was a large attendance.

A queer coincidence was witnessed by George H. Larkin and wife of San Francisco, Joseph Metzker of Geyserville and T. D. Ruddock of Philo on Saturday last. They were fishing on the Navarro river, near the sawmill, and had left their team tied to a tree near the bank of the river and fished down the river to the bridge near Studebaker's, and on their return the team, wagon and all had taken leave of the place. Tracks showed where the team and wagon had passed over ground where it seemed impossible for a vehicle to pass without overturning.

After a long and thorough search they came to the conclusion that the team had gone back to Indian creek, where the party were camped. However, before leaving one of the party looked on the sandbar near the Burke place and found that they had gone right up the river-bed and had swam a deep hole near Henry Clow's place, still going up the river.

They were apprehended by Mr. Burke near Dr. Brown's place and brought back down the river to the road with the wagon still attached and nothing broken; even the whip was still in the socket and the lines wrapped around the brake, which was still on. Great was the joy of the party when everything was safely returned in excellent condition. This may sound pretty fishy but it is true, however.

He'll Have Many Heirs.

Mrs. Georgie Crozer of 1425 High street, Oakland, claims to be the only living legitimate child of the late George E. White of Round valley. For this reason she thinks she may inherit a large share of the estate left by him. She has placed her case in the hands of Judge Stephen G. Nye of that city, but expects to have the matter settled only after many years of litigation. The mother of Mrs. Crozer was White's first wife, her maiden name being Anna Elizabeth Welling. Mrs. Crozer was born in 1860 at Covelo. Her mother immediately took her to San Francisco, she says, because of her father's neglect. Mrs. White subsequently sued for a divorce and married W. H. Lee. Mrs. Crozer was reared in the Lee home and was known only as Miss Lee. Even to the time of her marriage to E. L. Crozer, a patternmaker in the Union iron works, she did not know that she had a father living. When the third Mrs. White sued for a divorce, the first Mrs. White was called as a witness against the respondent. Then it was that Mrs. Crozer learned for the first time of her father's identity. She never saw him.

Andrew Tully, the 10-year old son of P. R. Tully of West Perkins street, had the thumb and two fingers blown off his left hand yesterday afternoon, and his brother, Pinkney, aged 13, was badly injured in his right eye at the same time. The accident was caused by the explosion of a dynamite cap, which had been thrown into the yard in which they were playing by boys who were amusing themselves in an adjoining yard. The fingers on the hand of Andrew Tully were dressed by Dr. Moore, and the little fellow exhibited the utmost bravery in submitting to the necessary amputation. He absolutely refused to take an anesthetic, and went through the operation with great fortitude. The two boys were otherwise bruised. A little granddaughter of John O'Neil was also slightly hurt by the explosion.

They Receive An Average of 19 Cents a Pound.

Among All the Growers Not a Single Advocate of Free Trade Can Now Be Found.

A Sick Liver

Can work havoc with human happiness. It can change the cheerful philanthropist into a morose misanthrope and the optimist into a pronounced pessimist. The liver has a great deal to do with the removal of the waste of the body. When it is sluggish in its action the whole body must suffer by reason of clogging accumulations.

The excretory organs in general promptly respond to the action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It restores the liver to healthy activity, purifies the blood, and cures diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mr. Edward Jacobs, of Marengo, Crawford Co., Indiana, writes: "After three years of suffering with liver trouble and malaria I gave up all hopes of ever getting stout again, and the last chance was to try your medicine. I had tried all the home doctors and received but little relief. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' I am stout and hearty. It is due entirely to your wonderful medicines."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains: you lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery." They are easy to take, agree with the weakest constitution, and do not beget the pill habit.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

HAPPENINGS OF THE PAST FEW DAYS FROM ALL QUARTERS.

Large Sum to Be Expended on Water Front at New York—Americans Sent to Prison In France For Scorching. World's Bicycle Record Broken.

United States Embassador Joseph H. Choate entertained at dinner King Edward and Queen Alexandra. There were also present Princess Victoria and many distinguished persons.

The time consumed in making the trip between New York and Chicago has been reduced to 20 hours, both the Lake Shore and Pennsylvania roads having now put on well-equipped trains for the purpose of making the fast run between the two cities.

Dr. R. G. Southwick, Boston's leading surgeon, is authority for the statement that cancer, tumors, lupus and tuberculous glands henceforth can be cured in all cases where X-rays can be applied directly. He says that in general cases X-rays are far superior to the surgeon's knife.

Advices from Honolulu state that Kilauea has broken out. The volcano, which has been quiescent for nearly ten years, became active again on the morning of June 3, and has continued its activity ever since.

Harry Elkes, in winning the Brassard race at Charles River Park bicycle track, Boston, broke all the world's records in a distance motor-paced race from one mile to 41, and in making 41 miles 250 yards for the hour broke the record of 40 miles 320 yards made by Will Stinson at Brockton last year. Elkes's fastest mile, the eleventh, was made 1:23 1-5.

C. Reynolds, chairman of the Pacific cable board, who has charge of the construction of the all-British cable from Bamfield Creek, on the west coast of Vancouver island, to Australia and New Zealand, arrived at Vancouver, B. C., on the steamer Aorangi and proceeded to Bamfield Creek. Reynolds says the cable will be completed by the latter part of November or early in December, a full month earlier than the contract calls for.

The Boers generally hold an unfavorable opinion of their foreign allies, except the Americans, whom they declare to be crafty and great fighters, says a Pretoria dispatch. A prominent commandant said, "All the Germans are fit for is to give horses sore backs."

Fire destroyed the Novelty leather factory of M. Rosenblatt & Co. at Second and Oxford streets, Philadelphia, and resulted in severe injuries to a dozen persons. Many other buildings were damaged. There were many narrow escapes, most of the 400 men and women employed in the factory saving their lives by leaping from the windows into nets held by firemen. The damage is estimated at $300,000.

Eddie Guerin and George Miller of Chicago were sentenced in Paris to life imprisonment at penal servitude, and May Churchill, known as "Chicago May," was sentenced to five years' imprisonment. When the sentence was pronounced May Churchill threw her arms around Guerin's neck and kissed him passionately. The guard separated them and led the prisoners away. Guerin and Miller were charged with having entered the office of the American Express company in Paris during the night of April 26, 1901, and with stealing 80,000 francs ($6,000). The Churchill woman was accused of being their accomplice.

C. F. W. Neely, who, on March 24, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $56,701 for complicity in the Cuban postal frauds, was released under the bill signed by President Palma, granting amnesty to all Americans convicted of crimes in Cuba during the term of American occupation and those awaiting trial.

The law against automobile scorching in Paris was violated by three Americans, and they had to pay the penalty. Tod Sloan was arrested while scorching and sentenced to two days in prison and fined a trifling sum. Gustave Warden of Chicago, for a similar offense, was sentenced to two days' imprisonment and fined. Trafford Huteson, formerly of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was sentenced to eight days and fined 300 francs for running down and killing a shepherd near Fontainbleau. Huteson pleaded that the shepherd committed suicide, and promised to erect a monument to him in the forest of Fontainbleau to placate his friends. Huteson appealed from the sentence.

The sum of $14,000,000 is to be spent in improving New York water-front, between West Twelfth street and West Twenty-third street, about two-thirds of a mile in length and from 500 to 800 feet in width. Where now there are manufacturing plants, factories, storehouses, shops and dwellings there will be within a year and a half a great stretch of water 35 feet deep washing the face of a bulkhead of the finest masonry. The object of the improvement is to induce all the great transatlantic steamship lines ultimately to dock their vessels on the New York side of the North river. This is the most extensive and costly undertaking of the kind ever contemplated by any municipality in the world.

Colonel Arthur Lynch, formerly of the Boer army, was arrested in England on his arrival from Paris, and later appeared in the Bow-street police court, London, charged with high treason. Lynch, who was born in Australia, was elected member of parliament for Galway, Ireland, in November last. The case for the prosecution is that on arriving in South Africa in 1900 he took service with the Transvaal government, raised a regiment, of which he acted as commander, to fight in behalf of the Boers, and actively fought against General Buller's operations. The case was remanded till June 21.

FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Tuesday.

The naval bill, carrying more than $78,000,000, was passed by the senate. It includes two first-class battleships, two first-class armored cruisers and two gunboats, but strikes out the house provision that one of each shall be built at government yards. When the isthmian canal question came up Turner delivered a speech in favor of the Nicaragua route.

The house began debate on the Pacific cable bill. Corliss said he was opposed to the cable's being owned by a private company, and argued in favor of the government's owning, constructing and operating the cable.

Wednesday.

The senate agreed to vote finally on the Nicaragua bill and all pending amendments on June 19. After a sharp debate, a motion to discharge the committee on privileges and elections from further consideration of the resolution providing for the submission of an amendment to the constitution for the election of United States senators by the people was defeated, 21 to 35.

The house dispatched the Corliss Pacific cable bill by striking out the enacting clause of the measure by a vote of 116 to 77. The field is thus left clear to the Commercial Cable company, of which John W. Mackay is president.

Thursday.

In the senate Morgan of Alabama spoke in favor of the Nicaragua route for an isthmian canal, discussing particularly the diplomatic phases of the question.

The house devoted the day to general debate of the irrigation bill. Tongue of Oregon, Newlands of Nevada and others spoke in favor of the bill, while Gray of New York opposed the measure, and said it would benefit certain states at the expense of others.

Friday.

The senate spent nearly the entire day in considering the nomination of Captain William Crozier to be chief of the bureau of ordnance, with the rank of brigadier-general. No conclusion was reached on the question. Crozier's confirmation is generally conceded by his opponets.

The house passed the irrigation bill by a vote of 146 to 55. The bill has already passed the senate. The friends of the measure greeted the announcement with a round of applause.

Saturday.

The house amendments to the irrigation bill were agreed to by the senate and the measure was passed. Elkins of West Virginia introduced a joint resolution providing for the annexation of Cuba and its admission as a state of the Union. The resolution, at the suggestion of Elkins, was allowed to lie on the table. The Nicaragua canal bill was before the senate for a short time, Morgan of Alabama speaking in support of the measure.

In the house Hay of Virginia called up the resolution calling for information as to the cost of the war in the Philippines. By a party vote of 91 to 66, a motion to lay on the table was carried.

Monday.

The senate passed the London dock charges bill, which provides that the master, agent or owner of any vessel transporting goods from the United States to foreign ports shall be held responsible for loss or damage. Consideration of the isthmian canal project was then continued.

The house adopted a resolution appropriating $25,000 for the preparation of plans for a memorial in Washington to Abraham Lincoln, and $110,000 for the erection of a monument to heroes of the revolutionary war. The resolution adopted was to carry out an authorization made for this purpose in 1777 by the continental congress.

After being covered with tons of falling earth Joseph Wallace was rescued alive from a prospect shaft near Grass Valley, Cal., and is expected to recover soon. Wallace was one of a gang of miners at work in the shaft, but below others in the place. Without warning tons of earth came down, burying him from sight. His companions immediately set to work to secure his release, and succeeded in bringing him out alive.

WHY SUFFER WITH HEADACHE

Insurance Statistics.

Few people have any idea of the enormity of the insurance business of the United States. It not only exceeds that of any other country, but is twice as great as that of all the rest of the world combined. At the present time there is in the United States about $12,000,000,000 of life insurance in force, including assessment business. This means over $160 for every man, woman and child in the country, or $800 for every family. The annual risks written by the fire insurance companies are estimated at $20,000,000,000, which is $250 per capita, or $1,250 per family. Thus it will be seen that every family in the country, on an average, has insurance assets of over $2,000.

Effect of Domestication.

Domestication modifies and often changes the instinct of wild animals to persecute or at least neglect the sick or injured, perhaps because the lessened strain of the struggle for existence leaves room for sentiment to grow. Both dogs and cats often aid their kind when sick, and strange alliances spring up between pets of different species. Perhaps the best known instance is that of the raven which Dickens saw at Hungerford, which used to carry bones to a broken legged retriever. And the quickness with which dogs learn that their master is ill and show sympathy is well established. — London Spectator.

Rome.

Even the guidebooks warn strangers to avoid exposure to the sun and night air in Rome and discuss Roman fever as a unique disease, but the doctors say that it is nothing more than typho malarial fever and was always due to bad water, bad plumbing or insufficient drainage. In 1870 the death rate of Rome exceeded that of Bombay. Today it is the smallest in Europe with the exception of Stockholm, Christiania, Copenhagen and some of the northern cities.

REPORT OF MRS. LILLIE McCLURE,

Official Delegate to Convention of the W. R. C. at Hanford.

The eighteenth convention was called to order, Mrs. Winan, department president, presiding. A motion was made and carried that the session be declared an open one. The seating of delegates according to their numbers took up much of the forenoon, followed by the reading of the delegates' names and roll call, showing 142 present entitled to votes.

The reading of the president's report was listened to with great attention, and showed the affairs of the department to be in a most encouraging condition. There being more money in the treasury than at the beginning of the year, many corps were visited that had never before had a department officer with them, and were thereby very much encouraged and benefited. We find an increase in membership of 142. Too much praise cannot be given Mrs. Winan for the able and conscientious care she has given the affairs of the department during her term of office.

After the reading of the president's report and appointment of the various committees, a motion was made and carried that we adjourn convention until 9 oclock Friday morning. On that morning convention was called to order. After roll call the several committees read their reports, and a motion was then made and carried that we adjourn until 1:30 p. m., to unable all to see the parade.

Friday afternoon was taken up with the election of officers, until committees were announced. The committee which had been sent to the ladies of the G. A. R. returned and reported being very cordially received,and brought many kind messages and an invitation to their reception to be held that evening. Several ladies accepted and reported a most pleasing time.

The committee sent to the Grand Army returned and reported that never before had the Relief corps received such an enthusiastic welcome, and they left in a storm of applause that almost amounted to an ovation. Someone suggested that perhaps the old soldiers were glad to be rid of them, but the suggestion was frowned down almost before it was finished.

General Schafter was then announced, and was escorted to the platform and received by the president in a few well-chosen words, and called upon for a speech. The gallant old soldier who had faced death without flinching in many a battle, now showed evident signs of distress. Someone quietly suggested that the balls at Santiago would be very welcome, but he quickly regained his composure and made many pleasing and gallant remarks.

Some members from the Grand Army were then announced and they caused a very happy half hour to be spent, and left us with the full knowledge of the appreciation and gratitude of the Grand Army of the noble work being carried on by that little band of earnest workers—the Woman's Relief corps. May it ever flourish so long as there is a defender of the union for her to work and care for, or a child to be taught to love and honor the flag so valiantly fought for and so dearly won.

Only a few weeks ago a federation of women's clubs was held in Los Angeles. Cultured, intelligent ladies from every state in the union met to discuss subjects for the advancement of the people, but among all the learned papers read not one touched on the subject of teaching patriotism to the children. That sacred duty is left wholly to the Woman's Relief corps, knowing well the pleasant task will be faithfully performed.

Convention, after the installation of officers, was closed by singing, God Be With You Till We Meet Again. We feel the citizens of Hanford are entitled to the highest praise for their hospitality and cordial greetings to the veterans and their ladies. The most lavish hospitality was ours for the asking, with nothing to be paid for, and if we tried to thank them we were anxiously asked: "Are you having a good time"? Carriages were at the depot to meet us, and even those who arrived during the night were given a welcome by the band, and when the old soldier arrived he found the whole town one mass of the beautiful red, white and blue,so dear to the hearts of every veteran.

Thursday afternoon the citizens of Lemoone, a little town ten miles distance, extended an invitation to visit them, and carriages were provided by the citizens of Hanford. The drive was a most beautiful one. On both sides of the road were thrifty orchards, alfalfa and grain fields, besides vineyards all under the highest state of cultivation, with beautiful dwellings, some almost palatial in their proportions, with beautiful lawns and yards full of roses, one mass of bloom.

Twice were we stopped by happy-faced school children under the care of their teachers all waving their flags and with trays full of beautiful flowers. We soon found ourselves well decorated. For the whole ten miles the houses and fences were decorated with our national colors, and not content with the wealth of beauty that was already bending them down,from every rose bush floated the folds of old glory. The ladies of Lemoore had prepared a bountiful lunch to which we all did justice, after which a fine program was given in a lovely grove.

Every evening an entertainment of a high degree of excellence was given in the operahouse, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Across the front of the stage the word welcome was picked out in white roses on a background of red roses and green leaves, and the footlights were buried in a bank of roses. One feature of one evening's entertainment was the beating of the long rollcall on the same drum and by the same drummer boy as it was given in the battle of Shiloh.

The parade on Saturday was a great success. The many school children escorting the veterans, formed a picture that brought tears to many eyes, and we felt that, discouraged as we sometimes are that our work is not as strong as it should be, patriotism will never die out while such scenes are to be viewed, and felt we had spent a most enjoyable week, but when the train whirled us among the beautiful hills and grand old trees of Mendocino county, we felt that our lines had fallen in pleasant places and appreciated more than ever, "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

American Millionaires and Art Prices.

The art critic of The Vossische Zeitung complains that American millionaires have sent up the prices of paintings to such a point that European collectors are now unable to compete with them, says a Berlin dispatch. The fact that pictures go to the United States, says the critic, does not mean their loss to the world. He deplores, however, the invasion of the art field by the younger generation of American millionaires, who, he declares, are without real artistic appreciation, saying they make it possible for picture dealers to increase the price of pictures tenfold, and thus shut out European buyers.

The centennial celebration of the military academy at West Point closed with the presentation of diplomas to the one hundredth graduating class by President Roosevelt, addresses by Congressman Dick of the visiting board and Secretary Root, and remarks by General Miles.

Martin D. Kell, coroner of Santa Clara county, Cal., died recently from heart disease at his home in San Jose. For many years he had been identified with the growth and development of Santa Clara county. Mr. Kell was born in Toronto, Canada, in 1840.

Dr. William Rider Powell, aged 80, charged with killing Albert Crandall, on his place near Mount Diablo, was acquitted by a jury at Martinez, Contra Costa county, Cal. Powell's plea was that he killed Crandall in self-defense.

NOW LOOK OUT!

"Take care of yourself," say our friends. "I'll try to," we answer. We do take a little care, yet in spite of warm clothes, rubbers and mackintoshes, an army of people were bowled out by pneumonia and other lung and chest diseases last winter. They caught cold, neglected it, let it fix upon them, were torn by coughs, choked by inflammations and congestions, wasted by fever, tired out by pain and then gave up the fight. The hour you realize that you have a cold on the chest, place a Benson's Porous Plaster where the pain or oppression is felt. If you think two are needed make it two. No harm if you were covered with them. They act quickly and prevent the engorgment of blood in the organs. In this way—with ordinary caution as to exposure—you will break up the cold and avoid a serious sickness. No other applications, or any other form of treatment, will accomplish this as certainly and speedily. Benson's Plasters have a distinct and positive action and are curative to the highest degree. Use them with the same confidence for coughs, muscular rheumatism, the grip (back and chest) and all similar ailments. Women, who are chief sufferers from cold weather complaints, should keep these plasters always within reach. Get the genuine. All druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each. Seabury & Johnson, Mfg. Chemists, N.Y.

A hatchery for the propagation of young salmon is about to be established on the Fraser river by a company composed of some of the prominent cannery men in the state of Washington, says a Vancouver (B. C.) dispatch. The new company will be incorporated under the laws of British Columbia. This new hatchery is but one of many proposed to be established on the upper reaches of the Fraser river and along the British Columbia coast.

Sweeping over a stretch of country 100 miles in width and devastating territory 200 miles long, extending from Livingston county on the north and McCoupin county on the south, and leaving its mark clear across the face of central Illinois, a tornado inflicted property loss which will aggregate $1,000,000 and cost a dozen lives, says a Bloomington dispatch. The wind reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour, and was the worst ever recorded in the history of central Illinois. The town hall at Merna, a village ten miles east of Bloomington, was destroyed. A dance was in progress in the hall at the time, and three of the women dancers were instantly killed by falling timbers. Several lives were lost in the vicinity of Peoria and much property destroyed.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Dismembered Bodies of Men Belonging to Fifth Cavalry Recovered.

A Manila dispatch says that the bodies of the sergeant, two corporals and four privates of the Fifth cavalry, who were captured May 30 by ladrones at Binangonan, Risal province, Luzon, have been recovered. Most of the bodies were hewn limb from limb and it was found impossible to recognize four of the dead. The American soldiers were buried together. It was impossible to make separate interment. A number of arrests in the matter have been made, and nine men have been identified as belonging to the band of ladrones that captured the Americans. The identified men included two members of the police force at Teresa, Morong province.

Twenty-five members of a band of insurgents who were captured while fighting with General Lukban in Samar took the oath of allegiance to the United States and were subsequently released. They have sworn allegiance and have promised General Chaffee to give him all the assistance in their power in the work of maintaining the present peace conditions in Samar.

Henry Ide, the member of the Philippine commission who was assigned to the department of finance and justice, has received a petition from the printers in the employ of the government asking that their salaries be paid in gold or in some other established and non-fluctuating currency. In reply to this petition Mr. Ide said he thought that the conditions of which the printers complained would probably be relieved. The men are now paid in Mexican silver.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.

Frank Wilson, who recently knocked down Wesley Griggs in Stockton, Cal., and robbed him of $2, was sentenced by Judge Jones to imprisonment in Folsom for life.

John Yeakey, a merchant and prominent citizen of Redding, Cal., was shot and killed by William Middleton, a young carpenter, who is in jail, and says that he shot Yeakey in self-defense. The shooting was the result of a quarrel about a girl named Cassie Clawson, with whom Yeakey had been associating. Yeakey was a married man, with three children.

By the blowing out of the main steam-pipe of the transport Meade at Folsom-street wharf, San Francisco, seven men employed in the engine-room were terribly scalded. George le Baron, machinist on the Meade, was so severely burned that he is not expected to survive his injuries.

De Wet Addresses the Boers.

Recent dispatches from South Africa give the total number of Boers who have surrendered as 16,500, and the British are extending every possible kindness to the men who come in. General Delarey surrendered at Lichtenberg with 800 men. The appearance of General De Wet at the Boer camp at Winburg was the signal for a display of great enthusiasm. He delivered a speech, in which he counseled his hearers to be loyal to the British government.

Novel Way to Get Rid of Grasshoppers.

The residents of Ephraim, Utah, the agricultural centre of San Pete county, where the crops last year were completely ruined by grasshoppers, have adopted a novel method of exterminating the pest, which is again threatening the crops. A series of entertainments has been arranged, the admission to which is half a bushel of grasshoppers. The first entertainment—a dance—was held recently, and 75 half-bushels of grasshoppers were presented to the ticket man at the door. After the dance the "hoppers" furnished fuel for a bonfire. Everything possible is being done to catch the young insects before they begin to fly, and the citizens around Ephraim have banded together in one army to fight them. A standing bounty of $1 a bushel has been offered by the city officials for the young "hoppers."

Negro Barber Gains University Degrees.

Moses Leonard Frazier, a negro barber, has just graduated at Columbia university from the department of political science with the degree of master of arts, says a New York dispatch. Frazier was born in New Orleans in 1860. Thirst for knowledge was born in him. He had to contend with poverty, but managed to get a public school education. Then he opened a barber shop, but did not accumulate sufficient money to enter college till he was 35. He graduated from Mount Union college, Ohio, in 1899 as master of philosophy. He took a year's course at Harvard, graduating in 1900 as bachelor of philosophy. Then he went to the New York Law School for one year. Finally he entered Columbia, and secured the master of arts degree at the age of 42. Frazier is going to Germany for a two years' course at Heidelburg; then he will practice law in New York.

Frazier still owns the barber shop in New Orleans, which has supported his parents and paid his way through college.

Notorious Criminal Sentenced.

Mussolino, the notorious brigand, was sentenced at Lucca, Italy, to imprisonment for life. Although but 29 years of age, he has committed some 22 murders and numerous robberies and other crimes. He escaped from prison after being sentenced to a long term for the murder of a peasant. He then succeeded in murdering every man who testified against him, seven of the jury and finally the judge. Later he burned their homes and property.

One of the largest of Barnum & Bailey's performing elephants, while on the way to the railway station at Tours, France, suddenly went mad, broke its chains, tried to kill its keepers and had to be killed immediately by strangling. Two hundred men tugged at the rope that strangled the elephant.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The senate confirmed Clarence W. Ide as collector of customs, Puget sound district, and Benjamin D. Crocker to be collector of internal revenue, district of Washington.

President Roosevelt sent a message to congress urging reciprocity with the republic of Cuba. He pointedly declares that the proposition for a rebate is not acceptable, and intimates that reciprocity alone will meet the necessities of the case.

Commissioner Yerkes of the internal revenue bureau has settled the contested question as to whether butter or any other ingredients artificially colored may be used in the manufacture of oleomargarine without increasing the tax from one-quarter of a cent to 10 cents a pound by issuing a regulation which holds in effect that no artificial coloring matter can be used in any way in the manufacture of oleomargarine without increasing the tax as stated.
